Presenter: Bronwyn Sutton

Bronwyn Sutton is a Speech Language Pathologist and Educator with 28 years' experience and expertise in working with students with autism and language impairments. Bronwyn Sutton has postgraduate qualifications in Education and has a Masters of Special Education in Autism and Intellectual Disabilities. Bronwyn is enrolled in the Doctor of Education program where she is researching the use of iPad technology to support social interactions with peers.

Bronwyn's reputation as a professional is highly regarded and her expertise in autism is widely sought. Bronwyn understands the challenge of engaging students with diverse learning needs to access curriculum content and develop social and communication skills. She is passionate about guiding parents, teachers and therapists to make informed app selection which support evidence based practice.

Bronwyn Sutton is presenting a full day interactive workshop on iPad apps for helping children with autism to learn. This seminar is designed for parents and professionals working with pre-school and primary school children. Discover apps to support students who have autism or diverse learning needs.

Through hands-on, practical workshops, the author of "The Learning App Guide to Autism and Education" (www.learningappguide.com) will show you how to choose apps which will motivate and engage children to learn. Enjoy creating new teaching and learning tools in an exciting, fun-filled day. We will play with apps and learn how to evaluate others to increase your confidence with this ever changing technology.

This workshop is based on hundreds of apps for children with autism and diverse learning needs. Join Bronwyn for a practical, engaging, thought provoking and insightful workshop.
